August, 1946

To the Gentlemen of the Press Box and the Radio Booth:

There comes that time in the life of every sports scribe and sportscaster when he asks himself, "What can I say about these guys for today?"

You won't find a ready-made eight column line or five minutes of air time within these covers, but there may be a fact or a figure that will - with considerable hard work and even more imagination - lend itself to the situation.

We feel confident that you won't have to rely on such a recourse very often for we are convinced that the Buffalo Bisons of the All-America Football Conference will provide more than enough news breaks, fresh angles and interesting features.

This brochure was designed as a helpful reference to you and we will make every effort to keep it up to date. However, if the answers are sometimes difficult to find, please remember that the door is always open. If we can be of service at any hour, or any day, don't hesitate to let us know.

With sincere best wishes,

Buffalo All-America Football Club

JAMES F. BREUIL

OWNER, BUFFALO BISONS

Long-time athlete and sportsman and president of the Frontier Oil Refining Corporation, Buffalo, New York. A football player in prep school and college, Jim has maintained an intense and active interest in all athletics for years, has been influential in his company's sponsorship of amateur teams and the broadcasting of sports events. Has his own airplane, plays golf in the low 70s.

Jim became interested in professional football for Buffalo before the advent of the All-America Conference. He has been an ardent supporter of Buffalo sports, felt for years that the city was of major league caliber. In 1945, he applied for a franchise in the National Football League for Buffalo and after a year's wait his bid was declined by the National League on the grounds that Buffalo was not a big league city, would not support a big league sports venture. Coincidentally, the All-America Conference was growing into more than a conversation piece, and Breuil immediately became interested and active in the new league. He has consistently promulgated the Buffalo Bisons as a civic venture for Buffalo.

FRANCIS W. DUNN

BUSINESS MANAGER, BUFFALO BISONS

Thorough background in sports as reporter, columnist for the defunct Buffalo Times. Formerly assistant director of public relations, Bell Aircraft Corporation.

TRAINING INFORMATION

Summer training camp of the Buffalo Bisons was set up in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, 55 miles from Milwaukee. Headquarters for the squad, which at one point numbered 70 players, was Spring Bank Manor, an estate house on the grounds of the Cistercian Monastary, three miles from Oconomowoc, a city of 5000 and once the scene of National Speed Skating Championships.

LOWELL (RED) DAWSON
Head Coach, Buffalo Bisons

In 1937, when the City of Buffalo was ready to unveil its huge, new stadium, it sought a worthy attraction to headline the dedicatory ceremonies. After a number of desirable contestants were fine-grated, two major college teams were selected to play the first football game in Civic Stadium. An invitation was sent downstate to Colgate University, coached by Andy Kerr, and another into the Deep South, where a young mentor was having considerable success at his alma mater, Tulane University. His name was Red Dawson.

In the waning days of May, 1946, when Owner James F. Breuil sought a man to build a worthy representative for Buffalo in the All-America Conference, he, too, was attracted by the reputation of the Tulane alumnus. It took exactly thirty-five minutes for Breuil and Red Dawson to reach an agreement at their first meeting and at the end of that period, Dawson signed a three-year contract as head coach of the Buffalo Bisons.

In making his debut in professional football ranks, Dawson is also marking his 15th season as a coach. After Dawson performed as a halfback for Bernie Bierman at Tulane, climaxed by participation in the 1932 Rose Bowl classic against Southern California, Bierman had enough respect for the youthful redhead's knowledge of football to want him as an assistant when he moved to the University of Minnesota to take over the head mentorship of the Gophers. Dawson served under Bierman as backfield coach for four years and his progress as a teacher, reflected in the success of the Gophers on the gridiron, propelled him into a top spot of his own.

In 1936, when Dawson was still on the sunny side of 30, Tulane recalled him as head coach. In his first year in command of the Green Wave, Red won six, lost three and tied one in the strenuous Southern Conference and intersectional competition. In six years at the Louisiana institution, Dawson's teams won 56, lost 18 and tied four.

Highlight was the 1939 season when his undefeated Tulane eleven was invited to the Sugar Bowl as an opponent of Texas A & M. The Aggies won a thrilling 14-13 victory. The following season Red was a member of the College All-Stars' coaching staff as an aide to Dr. Eddie Anderson.

In 1942, Dawson left Tulane to return to Minnesota as an assistant to Dr. George Hauser while Bierman was serving in the U. S. Marines.

During his association with the Gophers, Dawson helped to develop such stars as Andy Uram, Pug Lund, Babe LeVoir, Sheldon Beise, Stan Kostka, George Roscoe, Bill Daley and Bill Garnaas.

He is still as streamlined today as he was when he weighed 165 pounds as a college star. He started his football career in 1925, his last year at River Falls High School, in his birthplace, River Falls, Wisc. In 1926 and 1927, he played at River Falls Junior College before switching to Tulane.

Red is married and is the father of three children - all girls, and until joining the Bisons, made his home in Minneapolis.

CLEM F. CROWE

Assistant Coach, Buffalo Bisons

First of the famous string of seven brothers to win monograms at Notre Dame, Clem F. Crowe is backfield coach of the Buffalo Bisons.

Head coach at the University of Iowa last year where he took over for Dr. Eddie Anderson who was on military leave, Crowe reached the peak of his twenty-two years in the coaching ranks when his Hawkeye eleven became the fourth Iowa team in history to defeat Minnesota's Gophers.

Clem's start in bigtime football was made with the Notre Dame teams of 1923-24-25 under Knute Rockne and was labeled "the fastest end I ever coached" by that illustrious mentor. After serving as one of the Seven Mules to the never forgotten Four Horsemen during his first two seasons, Crowe was named Notre Dame captain in his final year.

Upon graduation, he became head coach at St. Vincent's College, Latrobe, Pa., and made several appearances in Buffalo during his six-year reign there. His next post was at Xavier College in Cincinnati where he served in a similar capacity for twelve years.

In 1944, Crowe returned to Notre Dame as line coach and head basketball coach before moving to Iowa, the following season.

A native of Lafayette, Ind., the 42-year-old Crowe, his wife and ten children are now residents of Buffalo. When Clem found housing facilities for his little brood in the city, it came under the heading of "minor miracle."

LEROY DIPPERY

Trainer, Buffalo Bisons

A veteran of 25 years in college and professional football and baseball, Leroy (Tiny) Dippery is overseer of that department under whose heading comes everything from bruises and sprains to shoulder pads and sweat socks.

Dippery trained the championship Los Angeles (nee Cleveland) Rams last year, his fourth with the National League club. Previously, he served Niagara University in a similar capacity from 1935-41, as well as coaching baseball and hockey.

In 1941-42, Dippery trained the Norfolk Tars, Yankee farm club in the Piedmont League, just 20 years after he was identified with his first baseball team, the old Reading club of the International League. In the same period, he did the same duty at Albright College.

TOM E. STIDHAM

Assistant Coach, Buffalo Bisons

The third head college coach getting his baptism in professional football as a member of the Buffalo staff, is Tom E. Stidham, former mentor at Oklahoma University and Marquette University.

The colorful Stidham, who serves as line coach for the Bisons, was born in Checotah, Okla., in 1905. He played football at Haskell Institute from 1924-27 and joined Dick Hanley as assistant line coach at Northwestern University in 1928. The following year, he became head line coach and remained there until transferring to Oklahoma in 1935 in a similar capacity under Biff Jones.

In 1937, Stidham was named director of athletics and head football coach at Oklahoma, and the next season, with the nation's sixth ranking eleven, won the first Big Six Conference title in Oklahoma's history and took an unbeaten eleven to the Orange Bowl.

Tom took over the top job at Marquette in 1941, and in his second year at the Milwaukee school, turned out a good eleven which had a record of seven wins and losses only to Wisconsin and Great Lakes. Last fall, he brought his last Golden Avalanche team into Buffalo's Civic Stadium, home of the Bisons, for an intersectional game with Villanova.

The 41-year-old Stidham, is married, has a two-year-old son and makes his home in Milwaukee, where he owns a drug store.

JOHN SCAFIDE

Assistant Coach, Buffalo Bisons

John Scafide, husky, black-thatched line coach of the Buffalo team, was a teammate of Red Dawson's at Tulane University, playing a regular guard position on Bernie Bierman's undefeated teams of 1930-31.

Captain of the team which went to the Rose Bowl in 1932, Scafide was picked as the outstanding lineman in that famous West Coast classic and gained All-Southern first string recognition in 1931. After graduation he was signed by the Washington Redskins but a broken leg during his first season ended his playing career.

Scafide started his coaching career in a Mississippi high school where he for four years before taking over at Pearl River, Miss., Junior College.

In 1943 and 1944, John moved into the collegiate ranks, joining Dawson at Minnesota where he took over line coaching duties. Scafide entered the Navy after the 1944 season and was assigned to Great Lakes last year as a line coach but his discharge came through before he had time to report.

John is 35, married, and has one child, a girl. His home is in Bay St. Louis, Miss.

LOUIS (BILL) DADDIO

Assistant Coach, Buffalo Bisons

A new page in an already brilliant chapter in football is being written this year by Louis (Bill) Daddio, former All-American end at Pitt, who is combining a coaching and playing assignment with the Bisons.

Bill was a great end on Jock Sutherland's great Panther teams of 1936-38 and was considered one of the best blocking ends in Pitt's history. The list of All-American selections which carry his name bears out this statement.

As a sophomore, Bill forecast his prowess by turning in a terrific defensive game against Ohio State, the Buckeyes winding up owing him 68 yards on defense. He did not overlook the scoring department, however, and still is an artist as a placekicker.

His 71-yard scoring run with an intercepted lateral pass against Washington in the Rose Bowl was the longest touchdown dash in the history of that classic and the famous scoreless series between Fordham and Pitt was broken up by a Daddio field goal.

With the Chicago Cardinals in the National Football League, Bill scored in 17 consecutive games and on one occasion, beat the New York Giants with a field goal in the last two minutes of play.

In June of 1946, Bill completed 5½ years in the U.S. Navy, including 28 months overseas as a gunnery officer. Last year, he was a member of the Fleet City Bluejackets of Shoemaker, Calif., one of nine players from that national championship service team to join the Bisons. In addition to all that, there is this, too - he's an excellent golfer.

Daddio, now 30 years old, was born in Meadville, Pa., and makes his home there with his wife and 4-year-old daughter.

John is 25, 6 ft. 2 in., 226 pounds, married, plans to enter medical school at the end of his professional football career. Other members of his well-known athletic family include a brother Tony, who was an All-American tackle at Pitt and another, Joe, who is a good heavyweight boxing prospect.

PUCCI - For a youngster - and he is only 21 years old - Ben Pucci of St. Louis, Mo., is really big. Ben, who plays tackle for the Bisons, is 6 ft. 4 in., weighs 261 pounds, is considered one of the most promising young linemen in the Conference. He played varsity ball for four years at Southwest High in St. Louis, was chosen All-District and All-City. His professional training was gained from one year's service with the Hollywood Rangers on the Pacific Coast where he was named on the All-Star for the American Association. Pucci is single and the only player on the club with no college experience.

STANLEY - C. B. Stanley, a huge 6 ft. 4 inch, 225 pound tackle from the University of Tulsa, was rated All-State in 1943, 44 and 45, and received All-American Honorable Mention for the same seasons. C. B. - he has no given names - lives in Tulsa and was rated All-State and All-Conference in high school where, besides football he participated in basketball, softball, track and wrestling. At Tulsa U., where he played four years of varsity football, he was a member of teams that played in the Sugar Bowl in '43, the Orange Bowl in '44 and the Oil Bowl in '45. He participated in this year's College All-Star Game against the Los Angeles Rams. Stanley is 27, has been married since 1939 and has three daughters.

JONES - A Buffalonian who attended Wake Forest College where he was rated one of the ten best athletes of the last ten years, Elmer (Buck) Jones, Jr., plays guard for the Bisons. Well known in Buffalo for his fine football at Riverside High School where he was All-High, Buck weighs 235 pounds and is an even 6 feet. He rowed with the West Side Club, took second place in the North American rowing meet in Boston in 1939. As a collegian, Jones was an All-Southern Sophomore in 1941, All-Southern Conference in '42, All-East in '43. After entering service, he played with Georgia Pre-Flight under "Ducky" Pond in 1944 and with the Marine All-Stars in 1945. Buck is 26 and single.

KLUG - Guard Alfred Klug from Marquette University is a native of Milwaukee, was a three-letter man - football, basketball and track - in high school. At Marquette he played tackle, won All-American Honorable Mention in 1940, '41 and '42, played in the East-West Game of 1943. Converted to a guard, Klug is 25, 6 ft. 1, weighs 220 pounds. He was married before going overseas last winter, was discharged August 14.

LAHAR - Harold Lahar attended Oklahoma University, was All-State and All-Conference in football and a member of the Big Six championship basketball team of 1938. Twenty-seven-year-old Lahar lives in Oklahoma City where he made All-State in high school football in '36. He played tackle and guard with the Bears in 1941 before entering the Navy as a lieutenant (jg), served overseas for 13 months before being discharged in May. He is six feet, 225 pounds, has been married for two years.

LARKIN - James Larkin, who plays guard with Buffalo, was a varsity starter for three years at Lock Haven (Pa.) College, gained Little All-American and All-Pennsylvania recognition in 1942, an undefeated season for his team. He served two years with the Marine Corps, is 25, 6 ft. 1 in., 230 pounds and lives in Oil City, Pa. He is one of the strongest men on the squad. Larkin is single.

PIRRO - Rocco Pirro is playing at a new position with the Bisons for the fifth time in his football career - he is now a guard. "The Rock," who comes from Solvay, N. Y., started out as a tackle at Solvay High School, became a fullback in his sophomore year at Catholic University under Coach Dutch Bergman. When he joined the Pittsburgh Steelers, Pirro played as a blocking back and last year he performed as a center for the Fleet City championship Bluejackets. Rock captained football at Catholic U., and went to the Steelers from college in 1940 and '41. He is 27, 6 feet, 255 pounds and married.

PERKO - John Frank Perko is a guard who joined the Bisons at training camp two days after going through the separation center at Great Lakes. His official discharge, with the rank of first lieutenant in the Marine Corps, was scheduled September 11, 1946. He served 15 months in the South Pacific and in Japan. Light in weight as pro league guards go at 200 pounds, "Perk" is considerably heavy in the talent department. He was an All-State Conference guard for his hometown high school in Ely, Minnesota, before entering the University of Minnesota. He played first string with the Gophers and besides Vic Kulbitski, Buffalo fullback, is the only other Bison to have performed under Red Dawson before joining the Buffalo eleven. He was also first string guard, as a Marine trainee, on the national championship Notre Dame team of 1943. He is 27, stands 5 feet, 11 inches, and is single.

WHITE - Captain at Indiana in 1941, Guard Gene White was All-State and All Conference under Coach Bo McMillin. White is from South Bend, 27 years old, 6 feet, 205 pounds. He holds an enviable service record, entered the Infantry in 1942 and fought in the ETO with the 100th Division, meriting the Bronze Star, Combat Infantry Badge and Purple Heart. White was married at Ft. Benning, Ga., in 1942. He participated in this year's College All-Star Game.

He is 28 years old, 5 ft. 10, 180 pounds, is married and has one daughter. Mart, Texas is his birthplace, San Antonio is now his home. Is a baker in the off season.

STOFER - A left handed passer from Cornell, Ken Stofer is also an adept punter, runner and place kicker. A native of Lakewood, Ohio, Ken attended high school in Olmsted Falls where he captained the football team and was a guard on the championship basketball quintet. He captained again at Cornell in 1941 where he gained All-East Honorable Mention bringing 188 pounds to the right halfback slot. Stofer is 5 ft. 9½ in., 27 years old and unmarried. He served four years with the Army Engineers, entering as a private in 1942 and attaining a captain's bars before separation last spring.

THURBON - Robert W. Thurbon is a pass-catching specialist who also goes very well on offense in the shadows of the goalposts. Greasy Neale referred to him as the "best back I have ever seen within the 10-yard line." A football player and sprinter at Erie, Pa. Academy High School, Thurbon also was a member of the University of Pittsburgh eleven and in the North-South game of 1940, ran up the impressive ground-gaining average of 19.2 yards. In 1943, with the Pitt-Philly entry in the National League, he led the team on scoring and the following season, with the Pitt-Cards combine, led the league in kickoff returns as well as turning in consistent averages in passing and punting. He spent 15 months in service as a physical instructor, is married and has two sons. He made "Play of the Year" in 1939 by catching a touchdown pass from Special Delivery Jones to beat Carnegie Tech in the last seconds of the game.

TOMASETTI - 29-year-old Louis (Babe) Tomasetti is a veteran professional football player. At the halfback assignment, the 6 ft., 199 pound Babe made All Eastern and All American Honorable Mention at Bucknell and then joined the Steelers in 1939 and 1940 and played with Philadelphia in 1941 and 1942. Entering the Navy in 1943, Tomasetti spent nearly a year in the South Pacific, emerged as an ensign in 1946. He is married and lives in Old Forge, Pa.

DUDISH - A University of Georgia halfback, Andrew Dudish was considered one of the best safety men in the South and rated second in the Southeastern Conference in pass interceptions. He intercepted a lateral against Alabama to win the game, the Southeastern Conference Championship, and an invitation to play in the Rose Bowl against UCLA. Dudish played with Ft. Benning in 1943, served as an Infantry First Lieutenant. He is 25, 6 ft., 185 pounds and a native of Crawford, Ga. and is single.

Stuart, Roy	5-8	195	26	Tulsa, Okla.	U. of Tulsa	Rams,-Lions
Zontini, Louis R.	5-9	199	28	Cleveland, O.	Notre Dame	Cards, Rams

BRAZINSKI - Sam Brazinsky from Villanova is a native of Kulpmont, Pa., where he captained his high school state football champions in 1938, made All-State honors for two years. He was All-East at Villanova and made All-Service in the South while with the Cherry Point Marines. Sammy was starting center for the El Toro Marines in 1945 and played in the All-Service game against the Hollywood Bears in 1946. He is 24, 6 feet 1 inch, 215 pounds, and is used at end, fullback and center with the Bisons. He suffered a fractured leg in the last scrimmage of the training camp, may be lost for the season.

KULBITSKI - Victor John Kulbitski played with Minnesota and, as a Marine trainee, at Notre Dame. He was at the fullback slot, and mentioned often for All-America honors, in 1943 when the Irish were declared national champions. All-State in 1939 at Red Wing High School in Virginia, Minn., he entered Minnesota the following year. Vic was a center at Minnesota in 1941 when the Gophers won the national championship but was switched to fullback the following year by Bernie Bierman. A lover of the concertina, Vic is 25, 5 feet 11 inches, plays at 204 pounds, is married and lives in South St. Paul. Victor was preceded at Minnesota by a brother, John, who was a center.

STUART - A short, fast man from Tulsa, Roy Stuart, Jr., made All-Missouri Valley, All-American Mention as a guard and was a member of the All-Southwest Service team. The Bisons have converted him from a guard to a fullback. He played one season with the undefeated Navy Zoomers of Norman, Okla., and has one season each with the Cleveland Rams (1942) and the Detroit Lions (1943) to his credit on the professional gridirons. Stuart is 26 years old, 195 pounds, 5 feet 8 inches, and speedy, powerful and vociferous. He is unmarried and makes his home in Tulsa.

THE BLUE AND SILVER

Break 'em up you Bisons, beat 'em down.
Take the Blue and Silver to the Crown.
Here's a swell chance to yell
For the boys who fight,
Ring the bell with a score,
Just to prove we're right.
Break 'em up you Bisons,
Beat 'em down.
For we've got to win that football crown.
Let 'em buck, let 'em run,
Give 'em luck - and when they're done;
Break 'em up, you Bisons,
Beat 'em down.

Music and lyrics by Jim Tranter
